 Garners Lane, Davenport, Stockport, SK3 8SD

Conveniently poised less than half a mile from Davenport Train Station and excellent bus links, this HANDSOME THREE BEDROOM PERIOD DETACHED HOME complemented by off road parking and a detached garage will get your creative juices flowing; it is a wonderful canvas upon which to add your imaginative touch and create your dream home.

Built by William Winbolt (who made a large contribution to the landscape of the Davenport area), full of character and boasting well-proportioned rooms, cornices, ceiling roses, picture rails, high skirting, corbels, high ceilings and period internal doors number 61 is open to a world of interior design opportunities.

Be entranced by the impressive proportions of this wonderful period home and engaged by the scope here to restore the latent grandeur as you explore this lovely home and discover the potential room by room.

Before you arrange a viewing, let us take you on a quick tour. Walk up the garden path and up the steps to the front door set under the attractive dressed arched brickwork. Cross the threshold into the splendid, spacious hallway which sets the theme for the proportions of this home. The hall is the gateway to the two reception rooms, kitchen, cellar and first floor (via a lovely spindle balustrade staircase).

There is a large reception room to the front with a bay window. To the rear, another reception room, this one with UPVC patio doors opening to the rear garden. Let social occasions spill out from here into the garden.

The kitchen, likely fitted during the 1970's is a good size retro affair and the condition, for its age, shows the care and attention shown to their home by the owners. You are likely looking at the floorplan and thinking about opening the kitchen to the rear reception room. Your call.

Back to the hall; ascend the stairs to the first floor and be impressed by the spacious landing. Period doors access to the three good sized fitted bedrooms, the spacious modern shower room and the handy separate w.c.

The spacious cellar has light, power and plumbing for a washing machine.

So to outside. Set on a corner plot position, with Elmfield Road running to the side, number 61 is set back from Garners Lane and screened by a high hedgerow. A garden gate opens to the front garden with a path leading to steps up to the front door. There is a garden/ path to the side which leads to a gate opening to the sun-facing rear garden.

The rear is divided by a gateway which separates the paved garden leading from the rear of the property through to the additional paved area used as the drive. The drive has gates accessible from Elmfield Road. There is a good sized garage.

The local area has a wealth of amenities with shops, pubs, parks and sports clubs within walking distance, mixing the upbeat regeneration of Stockport with the convenience of easy transport links into the city the countryside, the airport and motorway networks

With so much space and heritage, brimming with potential and versatility, number 61 offers a unique opportunity to create the home of your dreams. It begins with a viewing. We look forward to hearing from you.
